

Russia Will Fight Until Germany Accepts Peace Offers of Allies

President of Russian Douma Scoffs at Danger of Rebellion in Czar's Empire.

BY WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS

(Copyright 1916 by United Press) Petrograd, May 29.—Russia will fight for twenty years if necessary until Germany is forced to accept the allies' terms of peace, Michail Rodzianko, president of the Russian Douma told United Press in an exclusive interview today. He scoffed at the danger of a revolution in the Czar's empire. "There is no peace hope in Russian," said Rodzianko. "That is a German lie. The Douma is solid in its demands that Russia continue the fight until Germany puts her cannons in a pile and accepts the allies' conditions. Tell this to America as emphatically as you can."

Michail Rodzianko had just arrived in Petrograd for the reopening of the Douma today. "You need not accept my word exclusively," he said. "You are welcome to the floor of the Douma where you can talk to anyone. All will tell you what I have told you."

DR. REEVE GIVES GRADUATING CLASS MUCH GOOD ADVICE

Preaches Most Interesting Baccalaureate Sermon to the Class of 1916

Urges Members to Follow the Flock and Be Faithful to Their Work—Was Assisted by Dr. Bender and Rev. Allenbaugh.

The first exercises of Commencement week, were held last evening in the Presbyterian Church, when Dr. E. C. Reeve preached the baccalaureate sermon to the members of the graduating class. The class, composed of 62 members, clad in caps and gowns, marched down the center aisle of the church to the front, followed by the board of directors and the High School faculty.

The services were in charge of Dr. Reeve, who was assisted by Rev. Allenbaugh, of the Lutheran church, and Dr. Bender of the Trinity Methodist church. One of the largest congregations that ever attended a service in the Presbyterian church filled the spacious auditorium to the doors.

Dr. Reeve chose as his text Amos 7:15, "The Lord Took Me as I Followed the Flock." He urged the class to be faithful to the tasks before them and by being faithful would be advanced and would acquire their ambitions. It is not the man looking for the easiest jobs that receives the good positions but the person who is industrious and is faithful in the work in which he is now engaged.

Dr. Reeve used several illustrations to emphasize the theme. He highly complimented members of the class school and urged them to further educate themselves by attending college if possible. The sermon was full of good advice for the graduates and pointed out the correct path to choose in life's work.

CLEARFIELD DRUNK GETS BAD INJURY AT DUBOIS

Falls Against Door of Commercial Hotel Saturday Morning.

John Williams, a woodsman, giving his home as Clearfield, fell against the edge of an iron door at the side of the Commercial hotel, at Dubois, while in a drunken condition about ten o'clock Saturday morning and received a deep cut across the nose and other facial wounds that required five stitches to put into shape.

Williams was considerably under the influence of liquor and as he staggered back along the side of the hotel, he became overbalanced and pitched forward on his face, his nose and forehead striking the corner of the door in the sidewalk. A deep cut was inflicted on the nose and his forehead and cheek were damaged in addition to his eye being badly blackened.

Several men nearby picked him up and hustled him to the office of a physician where it was found necessary to use five stitches to close up his broken hide before he could be sent on his way.

Williams has been working in the woods and arrived here yesterday from Sykesville on his way home.

DEEP MYSTERY DEVELOPS IN MEXICAN SITUATION

Carranza Enmissary Will Go to Niagara Falls.

Washington, May 29.—(By United Press)—Mystery deep and impenetrable developed in the Mexican situation today. Manuel Mendez, reported Carranza emissary, arrived here but he had no note from the first chief to the state department. Furthermore, he said that no communication had been entrusted to him and that he knew of none.

He stopped off here enroute to Niagara Falls to see if Ambassador Arredondo had any instructions for him. He had read of important work and he wanted to learn more about his important mission. Officials here admitted that they were stumped.

A telegram from Consul Rodgers at Mexico City stated a communication to the state department was on its way and should have reached here yesterday. A previous message from him said that Mendez was the bearer according to indirect information reaching the consulate.

He especially honored officers of both the Union states and the Confederate state. The sermon was one of the best Memorial sermons ever preached in Clearfield.

Dance in Opera House Hall Will Follow the Play.

"The Little Tycoon," the cleverest musical comedy ever produced by a High School class here, will be presented by the Senior class this evening instead of the usual class exercises during Commencement week. Many members of the cast have appeared in other home talent plays and have gained a local reputation as actors.

Following the play a dance will be given by several of the High School students in the Opera House Hall. A fine orchestra has been secured for this dance.

Melville Davidson Post, the author, was a visitor in Clearfield Saturday afternoon.

THORO CLEAN-UP ON CAPITOL HILL IS EXPECTED SOON

Governor's Friends Say "Deadwood" Must be Eliminated From Departments

Will Attempt to Make Departments More Efficient by Clearing Out Office Holders.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 29.—If Governor Brumbaugh does what his friends expect him to do there will be a lively, instead of a dead summer on Capitol Hill. For several months a number of department heads and bureau executives, who have found that they are hampered by reason of political hangers-on, who held Penrose pension jobs at the state capitol, have been contending that the "deadwood" should be cleared out and the departments placed on a basis of 100 per cent efficiency.

Up to the present time action along this line has been held in check by a variety of personal and political considerations. But the decision of the governor to engage in a fight for supremacy with Penrose exists by reason of the machine which he has managed to preserve; that as eggs in this machine there are men who hold jobs on the hill, who are unable to deliver, in any except a purely political way. These men not only create insubordination in the various departments, but actually intrigue to embarrass the administration in carrying out its policies. The governor's advisors long ago pointed out to him that if he really desired to make good it would be necessary to "clear out the deadwood."

"Gave Promise to 'Swing Ax'" The governor, several months ago, promised a number of his Harrisburg advisors that he would swing the ax when the time came. It is contended by the governor's friends that the time has arrived; in fact a bit overdue.

One of the factors in the situation that has given added impetus to the clean-house movement has been the showing made in the departments of agriculture, labor and industry, health, and the public utilities commission. It has long been recognized that Dr. S. G. Dixon, by refusing to play politics, has accomplished results that make health department one of the best in the country. The public utilities commission, it has conceded, is accomplishing results that make its health department one of the best in the country. The public utilities commission, it has conceded, is accomplishing a really remarkable work. The commissioners under the leadership of W. D. R. Ainey, and with the sanction of the governor, has an organization based upon corporation efficiency lines.

In the department of agriculture, Charles E. Patton, the secretary assisted sometimes by the commission of agriculture and at other times opposed by it, has reorganized his department on a business basis. Bureaus no longer act independently, spending their funds according to their own sweet will. A bureau of distribution was one of the safeguards Patton installed and by means of it he knows what is going on in his domain.

Time of Reckoning is Due The department of labor and industry has a force that is expected to deliver on a business basis, although there it is hampered by more or less "deadwood."

However, these departments have set a pace and a sort of standard. The result is growing insistence that there be time of reckoning. The state fire marshal's force, the department of mines, banking department, the insurance department, are all due for a bit of pruning, calculated to eliminate the "dead timber." Even the department of agriculture is carrying weight here and there in the shape of men who are not up to standard.

Just how comprehensive the shake-up will be depends upon Governor Brumbaugh. That there will be some changes at least is admitted even by the Penrose contingent, the members of which are already busy trying to pick out soft places to light upon when the dumping day arrives.

Hitchcock Confident Hughes Will Accept G. O. P. Nomination

Boom For Supreme Court Justice Gets Under Way at Chicago Today.

Chicago, May 29.—(By United Press)—The boom for Supreme Court Justice Hughes for the G. O. P. presidential nomination got under way in earnest here today with the arrival in Chicago of Frank Hitchcock, the former chairman of the Republican National committee and now among the Hughes boosters. Hitchcock said he wanted it emphatically understood that he is "not here to open up Hughes headquarters" but he admitted he would be on the job to look out for the Justice's interests and would keep an ear to the ground.

"I am confident Hughes will accept if he is nominated," Hitchcock said. "He has not told me so, but I feel that way about it. I haven't seen Mr. Hughes for a month, but he is the most likely candidate. It will be a hard task to beat Woodrow Wilson but Hughes is the man to do it. Those who will read Hughes' speeches before he went on the Supreme court bench will know how he stands."

Albany will yield to New York and Governor Whitman will make the nomination speech. Whitman will be here Monday and so will George C. Vaner, New York state chairman. Hughes will have 50 votes from New York in the first ballot, a majority of the delegation.

The first presidential candidate approved in Chicago today. He is Coleman Dupont of Delaware.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS TO BEGIN BEFORE FALL

Consider Overtures for Peace Reply to Chancellor's Speech

Washington, May 29.—Belief among the diplomats of foreign nations and in official Washington, is that peace negotiations will not be delayed beyond the fall, and may begin before the November elections. Washington correspondents of powerful German papers construe the President's overtures for peace as a response to the statements of the German Chancellor that Berlin is ready to discuss peace on terms it has outlined.

The Public Ledger correspondent asked Dr. George Barthelme, correspondent of the Cologne Gazette, to give to the American public Germany's position and the relation the United States will have in the peace plans. Doctor Barthelme speaks with the authority of a seasoned correspondent, experienced in international questions and fully alive to the inside politics operating in the United States as well as Germany. His views, however, are not to be considered as in any way representing the opinion of Ambassador von Bernstorff, with whom he is in intimate communication.

Tumulty, will attend the convention.

BULGARS OCCUPY GREEK GARRISON IN HEAVY ATTACK

Premier Renews Demand That Greece Enter War, Using Invasion as Cause

Only 25,000 Bulgarians Took Part in Invasion of Greek Territory, According to Latest Reports.

London, May 29.—(By United Press)—Brink fighting between Greece and Bulgaria occurred at several points along the frontier following the invasion of Greek territory by the Bulgarian detachment from the Greek garrison at Fort Rupel. The Greeks fired on the Bulgars before evacuating the position.

The Greeks were injured, according to Salonika dispatches today, because the Bulgars entered the fort before the time they had stipulated for the fire. The Bulgars refused to fire, the Greeks withdrawing without serious casualties on either side.

Only 25,000 Bulgarians took part in the advance into Greek territory, according to the best available information. It is generally believed here that the Bulgars occupied Fort Rupel, Dragontina and Spatoze, and a defensive measure to guard against allied attacks.

Premier Venizelos is using the Bulgarian advance to the best advantage in renewing the demand that Greece enter the war on the side of the allies. It is believed here however, that King Constantine is not willing to plunge his country into war.

Greece Promised Part of Serbia

Amsterdam, May 29.—Greece has been promised a slice of southern Serbia and Albania by the Austro-Germans in return for remaining neutral according to Berlin reports. For this reason the Greek government is expected to make no serious protest against the Bulgarian invasion.

French Attacks Reported

Berlin, May 29.—Two French attacks at Cumieres last night were completely repulsed, the war office announced this afternoon. Violent artillery fighting continued on both banks of the Meuse.

JAMES JEROME HILL, RAILROAD MAGNATE, DIES IN ST. PAUL

Was Largest Influence in Development of the Great Northwest

Dies Following Serious Operation for Infection of the Thigh—Family Rushed to St. Paul by Special Train

St. Paul, May 29.—(United Press)—James J. Hill railroad magnate, died at his home here at 9:43 this morning following an operation for infection of his thigh. Hurried here by a special train, Mrs. Samuel Hill rushed to the death chamber just in time to grasp the hand of her dying father. Mrs. A. M. Beard is the only child who did not reach here before the end came. Her special train was reported between St. Paul and LaCrosse when Hill died.

The end came quietly, said an official statement. Mr. Hill was unconscious a few hours before. There were no death agonies.

The history of the life of James Jerome Hill is a history of the development of the northwest. His was perhaps the largest influence in the development of his vast expanse of almost half a continent over which his railroad extends.

Fifty years ago Hill was a clerk and practically penniless. Today he is worth millions. Born near Guelph, Ontario, September 16, 1838, Hill had perhaps less than the average early opportunities. His parents, James and Anne Hill, were plain hardworking Scottish and north Ireland stock. Hill's early boyhood's dream of becoming a great surgeon was blasted when he was fifteen by the death of his father, which sent him to work. For three years he worked in a country grocery store near his home. His higher ambitions caused him to come to the United States.

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 29, 1916.

Old Sol is getting even with the North Wind for remaining so long. He jumped the thermometer up to the 100 mark today and called Old Man Humidity in to help him.

Will someone kindly suggest a method by which a bartender may distinguish between a visiting bum and one of genuine home stock?

Interest in the fair is increasing mightily. The various committees charged with the preliminary work are making splendid headway, and everything points to a great success for the enterprise.

The governor is reported to be on the verge of a house-cleaning, which will throw out a great deal of the dead weight carried in the various state departments. As a precaution we would suggest that he securely anchor the state house before removing all of the ballast the commonwealth is carrying in its departments and bureaus.

Some months ago the president of council appointed a committee to negotiate with the county commissioners for the lease of a plot of ground for the erection of a garbage disposal plant. To date the committee has not said a word to the commissioners about it, and we continue to revel in the smells of the borough dump.

FLIES AND THE HEALTH BOARD

The Progress understands from a member of the board of health that the repeated demands of the board for the abatement of the fly nuisance in livery stables in the business section of the town have not been complied with. The board has repeatedly called the attention of the owners of these premises to the law which requires that manure and stable refuse be stored in receptacles which are designed to prevent the breeding of flies.

This condition has existed for upwards of a year. Promises after promise to comply with the law has been made. Nothing has been done.

A member of the board explained today that the board tried to accomplish its work without taking recourse to law to compel compliance with its orders. That is all very well if there is a disposition shown to cooperate with the board, but we deem it almost as great a dereliction on the part of the board to continue such toleration as it is on the part of the offending owners.

The conditions complained of constitute a nuisance from which the whole town suffers. They should be corrected with all possible speed, without invoking the aid of the court if possible, but with it if necessary.

TOBACCO MEN MEET IN NATIONAL CONVENTION

Washington, May 29—(By United Press)—A billion and a half dollars of capital was represented here today when the greatest convention of tobacco merchants in the history of the country began at the New Willard. There are 500 delegates from every section of the country, and representing every branch of the industry. From growers to leaf dealers, to manufacturer, jobber and the man behind the counters.

It is the first national convention of tobacco merchants. Cigars that a king couldn't afford to buy in any quantity will be smoked at tonight's banquet.

When a man tries to stop smoking via the drop-it-in-his-coffee-cup route, he takes a chance on contracting the cocaine or other drug habits, the conclave was told. It plans a fight on the 42 varieties of compounds which claim to destroy the desire for tobacco.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

Says Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast Washes Poisons from System

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach, others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

TELEGRAPHERS HAVE GRIVENANCE

New York, May 29—The national convention of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America was opened here today with welcome addresses and responses and the appointment of committees and other routine business. The convention promises to be of more than ordinary interest and importance to the membership. In addition to the transaction of a large amount of business relating to the affairs of the organization the convention will take up several matters outside the ordinary routine. Chief of these is an alleged hostile attitude said to have been adopted by the large telegraph companies in reference to the union and its membership. An exhaustive investigation is expected to be ordered into the alleged discrimination against union members in recent discharge made by the local management of the company in Boston and other cities.

KANSAS CITY TO HAVE DEFENSE MARCH

Kansas City, Mo., May 29—A gigantic parade and demonstration with a visit from Theodore Roosevelt as an added attraction are to feature the Memorial Day celebration in Kansas City tomorrow. It is planned to start the parade at the Union Station at 8:45 o'clock in the morning, the hour scheduled for the arrival of Col. Roosevelt's train. A thousand Boy Scouts are to receive as the Roosevelt escort.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a tea with sulphur added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair to its natural color and luxuriant. But a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mix the Sage tea and Sulphur recipe at home though a true blonde. An equal way is to take a little of Welch's Sage and Sulphur compound at any drug store all ready mixed. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While gray hair fades, it is not until we find some of our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Welch's Sage and Sulphur Compound you will naturally become younger. You will draw in through your hair the tonic which has been drawn out of you. All gray hairs have disappeared and the hair is again as it was when you were young.

The preparation is a true tonic for the hair and the scalp and the entire system.

Sub. for The Progress

When I Took Over the Ledger

a little more than three years ago I found it antiquated in equipment—18-year-old presses—good, but out of date; typesetting machinery and everything else, old, worn and cheap—to get out a cheap newspaper.

The best men in journalistic lines declined to work for it, because they couldn't afford to work for what it could afford to pay.

I have been spending money for three years to make the Public Ledger superior to any newspaper ever published in Philadelphia, or anywhere else. I have spent money not only for new, efficient and up-to-date machinery, but also for brains—for the best men who know how to make the best newspaper.

With what result?

The Ledger, when I took it over, had an actual net sale of about 45,000 copies daily, at one cent a copy. I raised the price to two cents for a better paper, and we have gradually grown up to 60,000 copies daily, at two cents a copy.

Newspaper men said to me: "Curtis, you can't do it. With all other Philadelphia morning papers at one cent a copy, you never can 'put over' a two-cent proposition, no matter how good you make your paper. Pennsylvania people are satisfied with what they have.

But I have put it over!

The Public Ledger has a much larger circulation at two cents a copy than the old Ledger had at one cent, and with the Evening Edition I am putting out 180,000 copies a day—and trying to find room in the old Ledger building to put in more presses to take care of a growing circulation!

To every business man of Pennsylvania the Public Ledger has a special appeal in its Financial and Business Section. Our own industries particularly are reported in detail.

Try the Public Ledger for six months. Read it long enough to get that "fixed habit" for the Ledger. Don't stay satisfied until you know there is "something better". Try the Ledger to find out—then accept it or discard it. Only a trial can settle the matter for you—that's all I ask.

GROWERS TO ORGANIZE ON A CALIFORNIA BASIS

Lockport, N. Y., May 29.—(By United Press)—To do for New York and the east what organization has done for Southern California orange growers and Oregon apple men, and to lay the foundation for the standardization, grading, packing and marketing of Western New York's famous apples and peaches, the Farmers' congress will be held in Lockport June 1, 2 and 3.

Several thousand farmers are expected. Parades will be featured. The 74th regiment of Buffalo will stage a sham battle. But the main purpose of the congress is to organize the farmers and guard against another year such as last, when millions of baskets of peaches were left unpicked because the growers did not know how to dispose of them.

Governor Charles S. Whitman will be a speaker at the Congress. Former United States Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, also will be here. Whitman and Burton will speak June 2nd. The country's leading authorities on the subject of fruit and marketing co-operation will attend, including Grosvenor Dawe, organizer of the Southern Commercial Congress, State Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. DAUGHTERS TO DECORATE

Sandusky, O., May 29.—For the first time in more than a quarter of a century the graves of the 600 officers and 3,000 soldiers of the Confederacy, in the Federal prison cemetery on Johnson's Island, in Sandusky harbor, will not be decorated tomorrow by the veterans of the local G. A. R. post. On account of age and infirmities the handful of surviving Grand Army veterans were obliged reluctantly to discontinue their time-honored custom and to save their strength for the task of decorating the graves of their own dead. The graves of the "boys in gray," however, are not to be neglected on Memorial day. Learning of the decision of the G. A. R. post, the national chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy volunteered to take up the task and received permission to send many large boxes of flowers and flowers for the decorations of the Confederate graves.

SECOND TRIAL ON MURDER
CHARGE

Abingdon, Va., May 29.—In the Washington county circuit court here today James Canter was arraigned to stand trial for the second time on a charge of complicity in the murder of Mrs. Maude Wilson, for which one of Canter's brothers was electrocuted last June, while a second brother is still awaiting trial.

The murder of Mrs. Wilson was one of the most heinous ever committed in this section. The victim of the tragedy, a bride of a few weeks, was assaulted in her home in broad daylight, held a prisoner for hours, and finally she was brutally murdered. James Canter, who had formerly worked for the Wilson family, was suspected and was arrested. It was testified that he had on more than one occasion stated that he loved the woman.

With excitement high and a life hanging in the balance, Luther Canter, an older brother of James, and who was not even suspected of connection with the crime, assumed all responsibility, exonerated his brother of any connection with the crime, and expressed himself as ready and willing to pay the penalty. The younger brother was still held, however, because he had made conflicting statements, and was convicted as an accomplice.

Although Luther Canter was convicted largely upon his own confession and sentenced to die, the jury did not accept his exoneration of his brother and returned a verdict against James Canter of murder in the first degree.

Luther Canter was electrocuted last June, but James Canter took an appeal, and after several reprieves by the governor, his sentence was reversed by the supreme court of appeals, on the ground that the evidence was insufficient to sustain a verdict of murder in the first degree. In his new trial James Canter is to be defended by several eminent lawyers of Bristol, despite the fact that he is without friends or money. The lawyers, believing in his innocence, volunteered to assist in his defense.

Recently a new turn was given to the case by the arrest of William Canter, a third brother, on a charge of having been a member in the murder of Mrs. Wilson. He is being held in the jail at Bristol and will be tried later.

FIFTY CLOWNS.

Among the Buffoons With Carl Hagbeek-Wallace Circus is Arthur Borella

Half a hundred clowns from mirthland's fertile field have been assembled this season by the management of the Carl Hagbeek-Wallace Circus, which comes to Clearfield on Wednesday, June 7, for performances at 8 p. m., and a three-mile-long street parade at 10 o'clock in the morning.

One of the most interesting of these clowns is Arthur Borella, known the world over as the "Here's me" clown. This is Borella's trade-mark, and for twenty years it has been his slogan and by-word. Whenever he appears on the hippodrome track he shouts these words. Little tots know him, for he has inveigled cheer and happiness into the hearts of millions of them.

Beneath Borella's make-up of vermilion and white there is a sober face that on a down-town street corner one would pick for a banker or business man. He dresses neatly, and there is an air of polish and bearing in his manners which stands in vivid contrast to the foolishly funny fellow who cavorts about in the big arena tent, working the flap-sticks and making fire crackers do their full duty.

Mr. Borella is the originator of many clown novelties. He is the first person to successfully introduce baseball pantomime, and it was he who conceived the idea of having a goosie follow him about the track on a supposed trip to the frontier as a soldier. This season Borella has a burlesque which he calls "Chicken" and it promises to break all records as a laugh-dispenser and a grouch-chaser.

Arthur Borella is the highest paid clown in the world. His salary is $600 per week and all expenses. Only once in all the history of circus was this eclipsed and this was by the immortal Dan Rice, who once received a salary of $1,000 per week.

"THE CAPTIVE"

"The Captive," the second photodrama in which Blanche Sweet has starred under the direction of the Lasky Feature Play Co., is based on the play of the same name by Cecil B. De Mille and Jeanie MacPherson. It deals with events during the days of the Balkan Wars, and is primarily concerned with the romance of a Montenegrin peasant girl and a Turkish nobleman.

Sonya Martinovitch (played by Miss Sweet), her older brother, and her little crippled brother dwell on a small farm in Montenegro. In the first battle of the war with Turkey the older brother is slain, and Sonya is left helpless. In order to relieve the situation, one of the Turks, captured in the same combat, is assigned to Sonya as a captive who must take the place of the dead brother on the farm. At first Sonya hates the captive, both for his race and rank, and seeks to humiliate him in every manner possible, but he is so truly patient and noble that she begins to feel affection for him. The Turk (played by House Peters) finally shows his misery when Sonya lashes him with a whip.

The main events of the story concern the manner in which Sonya and the Turk come to love one another, and the manner in which the Turk saves her from a marauding party of his own countrymen. In the end the material disasters which have overtaken them both, reduce them to a level of poverty, and the distinctions of class, which prevented their union, are thus obliterated.

The drama is of intense romantic spirit, and most thrilling, at the Opera House, Tuesday evening.

Russia Will Fight Until Germany Accepts Peace Offers of Allies

BY WILLIAM PHILLIP SIMMS

(Copyright 1916 by United Press) Petrograd, May 29.—Russia will fight for twenty years if necessary until Germany is forced to accept the allies' terms of peace, Michail Rodzianko, president of the Russian Douma told United Press in an exclusive interview today. He scoffed at the danger of a revolution in the Czar's empire. "There is no peace hope in Russian," said Rodzianko. "That is a German lie. The Douma is solid in its demands that Russia continue the fight until Germany puts her cannons in a pile and accepts the allies' conditions. Tell this to America

as emphatically as you can."

Michail Rodzianko had just arrived in Petrograd for the reopening of the Douma today. "You need not accept my word exclusively," he said. "You are welcome to the floor of the Douma where you can talk to anyone. All will tell you what I have told you."

Dies Following Serious Operation for Infection of the Thigh—Family Rushed to St. Paul by Special Train

St. Paul, May 29.—(United Press)—James J. Hill railroad magnate, died at his home here at 9:43 this morning following an operation for infection of his thigh. Hurried here by a special train, Mrs. Samuel Hill rushed to the death chamber just in time to grasp the hand of her dying father. Mrs. A. M. Beard is the only child who did not reach here before the end came. Her special train was reported between St. Paul and LaCrosse when Hill died.

The end came quietly, said an official statement. Mr. Hill was unconscious a few hours before. There were no death agonies.

The history of the life of James Jerome Hill is a history of the development of the northwest. His was perhaps the largest influence in the development of his vast expanse of almost half a continent over which his railroad extends.

Fifty years ago Hill was a clerk and practically penniless. Today he is worth millions. Born near Guelph, Ontario, September 16, 1838, Hill had perhaps less than the average early opportunities. His parents, James and Anne Hill, were plain hardworking Scottish and north Ireland stock. Hill's early boyhood's dream of becoming a great surgeon was blasted when he was fifteen by the death of his father, which sent him to work. For three years he worked in a country grocery store near his home. His higher ambitions caused him to come to the United States.

Urges Members to Follow the Flock and Be Faithful to Their Work—Was Assisted by Dr. Bender and Rev. Allenbaugh.

The first exercises of Commencement week, were held last evening in the Presbyterian Church, when Dr. E. C. Reeve preached the baccalaureate sermon to the members of the graduating class. The class, composed of 62 members, clad in caps and gowns, marched down the center aisle of the church to the front, followed by the board of directors and the High School faculty.

The services were in charge of Dr. Reeve, who was assisted by Rev. Allenbaugh, of the Lutheran church, and Dr. Bender of the Trinity Methodist church. One of the largest congregations that ever attended a service in the Presbyterian church filled the spacious auditorium to the doors.

Dr. Reeve chose as his text Amos 7:15, "The Lord Took Me as I Followed the Flock." He urged the class to be faithful to the tasks before them and by being faithful would be advanced and would acquire their ambitions. It is not the man looking for the easiest jobs that receives the good positions but the person who is industrious and is faithful in the work in which he is now engaged.

Dr. Reeve used several illustrations to emphasize the theme. He highly complimented members of the class school and urged them to further educate themselves by attending college if possible. The sermon was full of good advice for the graduates and pointed out the correct path to choose in life's work.

CLEARFIELD DRUNK GETS BAD INJURY AT DUBOIS

Falls Against Door of Commercial Hotel Saturday Morning.

John Williams, a woodsman, giving his home as Clearfield, fell against the edge of an iron door at the side of the Commercial hotel, at Dubois, while in a drunken condition about ten o'clock Saturday morning and received a deep cut across the nose and other facial wounds that required five stitches to put into shape.

Williams was considerably under the influence of liquor and as he staggered back along the side of the hotel, he became overbalanced and pitched forward on his face, his nose and forehead striking the corner of the door in the sidewalk. A deep cut was inflicted on the nose and his forehead and cheek were damaged in addition to his eye being badly blackened.

Several men nearby picked him up and hustled him to the office of a physician where it was found necessary to use five stitches to close up his broken hide before he could be sent on his way.

Williams has been working in the woods and arrived here yesterday from Sykesville on his way home.

DEEP MYSTERY DEVELOPS IN MEXICAN SITUATION

Carranza Enmissary Will Go to Niagara Falls.

Washington, May 29.—(By United Press)—Mystery deep and impenetrable developed in the Mexican situation today. Manuel Mendez, reported Carranza enmissary, arrived here but he had no note from the first chief to the state department. Furthermore, he said that no communication had been entrusted to him and that he knew of none.

He stopped off here enroute to Niagara Falls to see if Ambassador Arredondo had any instructions for him. He had read of important work and he wanted to learn more about his important mission. Officials here admitted that they were stumped.

A telegram from Consul Rodgers at Mexico City stated a communication to the state department was on its way and should have reached here yesterday. A previous message from him said that Mendez was the bearer according to indirect information reaching the consulate.

Following the play a dance will be given by several of the High School students in the Opera House Hall. A fine orchestra has been secured for this dance.

Melville Davidson Post, the author, was a visitor in Clearfield Saturday afternoon.

THORO CLEAN-UP ON CAPITOL HILL IS EXPECTED SOON

Governor's Friends Say "Deadwood" Must be Eliminated From Departments

Will Attempt to Make Departments More Efficient by Clearing Out Office Holders.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 29.—If Governor Brumbaugh does what his friends expect him to do there will be a lively, instead of a dead summer on Capitol Hill. For several months a number of department heads and bureau executives, who have found that they are hampered by reason of political hangers-on, who held Penrose pension jobs at the state capitol, have been contending that the "deadwood" should be cleared out and the departments placed on a basis of 100 per cent efficiency.

Up to the present time action along this line has been held in check by a variety of personal and political considerations. But the decision of the governor to engage in a fight for supremacy with Penrose has given a boost to the clean house idea. It is pointed out that Penrose exists by reason of the machine which he has managed to preserve; that as eggs in this machine there are men who hold jobs on the hill, who are unable to deliver, in any except a purely political way. These men not only create insubordination in the various departments, but actually intrigue to embarrass the administration in carrying out its policies. The governor's advisory long ago pointed out to him that if he really desired to make good it would be necessary to "clear out the deadwood."

"Gave Promise to 'Swing Ax'" The governor, several months ago, promised a number of his Harrisburg advisors that he would swing the ax when the time came. It is contended by the governor's friends that the time has arrived; in fact a bit overdue.

One of the factors in the situation that has given added impetus to the clean-house movement has been the showing made in the departments of agriculture, labor and industry, health, and the public utilities commission. It has long been recognized that Dr. S. G. Dixon, by refusing to play politics, has accomplished results that make health department one of the best in the country. The public utilities commission, it has conceded, is accomplishing results that make his health department one of the best in the country. The public utilities commission, it has conceded, is accomplishing a really remarkable work. The commissioners under the leadership of W. D. R. Ainey, and with the sanction of the governor, has an organization based upon corporation efficiency lines.

In the department of agriculture, Charles E. Patton, the secretary assisted sometimes by the commission of agriculture and at other times opposed by it, has reorganized his department on a business basis. Bureaus no longer act independently, spending their funds according to their own sweet will. A bureau of distribution was one of the safeguards Patton installed and by means of it he knows what is going on in his domain.

Time of Reckoning is Due The department of labor and industry has a force that is expected to deliver on a business basis, alto here and there it is hampered by more or less "deadwood."

However, these departments have set a pace and a sort of standard. The result is growing mistrust that there be time of reckoning. The state fire marshal's force, the department of mines, banking department, the insurance department, are all due for a bit of pruning, calculated to eliminate the "dead timber." Even the department of agriculture is carrying weight here and there in the shape of men who are not up to standard.

Just how comprehensive the shake-up will be depends upon Governor Brumbaugh. That there will be some changes at least is admitted even by the Penrose contingent, the members of which are already busy trying to pick out soft places to light upon when the dumping day arrives.

Hitchcock Confident Hughes Will Accept G. O. P. Nomination

Boom For Supreme Court Justice Gets Under Way at Chicago Today.

Chicago, May 29.—(By United Press)—The boom for Supreme Court Justice Hughes for the G. O. P. presidential nomination got under way in earnest here today with the arrival in Chicago of Frank Hitchcock, the former chairman of the Republican National committee and now among the Hughes boosters. Hitchcock said he wanted it emphatically understood that he is "not here to open up Hughes headquarters" but he admitted he would be on the job to look out for the Justice's interests and would keep an ear to the ground.

"I am confident Hughes will accept if he is nominated," Hitchcock said. "He has not told me so, but I feel that way about it. I haven't seen Mr. Hughes for a month, but he is the most likely candidate. It will be a hard task to beat Woodrow Wilson but Hughes is the man to do it. Those who will read Hughes' speeches before he went on the Supreme court bench will know how he stands."

Albany will yield to New York and Governor Whitman will make the nomination speech. Whitman will be here Monday and so will George C. Hughes, New York state chairman. Hughes will have 50 votes from New York in the first ballot, a majority of the delegation.

The first presidential candidate arrived in Chicago today. He is Coleman Dupont of Delaware.

CHERRY TREE LADY DIES AT 95 YEARS OF AGE

Miss Elizabeth Camp Was Well Known in This County

Last week Miss Elizabeth Camp, who has resided at Cherry Tree since about 15 years of age died at the age of 95 and 3 months.

Miss Camp came to Cherry Tree from the state of Connecticut and has enjoyed excellent health all her life until three months ago. At the age of 90 years she sustained a broken hip which is almost without exception fatal to one of her age, but she recovered from it in about the usual time. During the last two years of her life she has made her home with her nephew, F. B. Camp, of Cherry Tree.

At the State Sunday School convention held in Philadelphia in 1907 she won the distinction of being the oldest Sunday School teacher living in the state, she having taught for 75 years. Funeral was held at Cherry Tree, Friday, May 26, and interment made in the I. O. O. F. cemetery at Burnside. Rev. Dr. Worrel, of Cherry Tree, officiating.

Miss Camp had a host of friends all through the northern part of Clearfield county.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS TO BEGIN BEFORE FALL

Consider Overtures for Peace Reply to Chancellor's Speech

Washington, May 29.—Belief among the diplomats of foreign nations and in official Washington, is that peace negotiations will not be delayed beyond the fall, and may begin before the November elections. Washington correspondents of powerful German papers construe the President's overtures for peace as a response to the statements of the German Chancellor that Berlin is ready to discuss peace on terms it has outlined.

The Public Ledger correspondent asked Dr. George Barthelme, correspondent of the Cologne Gazette, to give to the American public Germany's position and the relation the United States will have in the peace plans. Doctor Barthelme speaks with the authority of a seasoned correspondent, experienced in international questions and fully alive to the inside politics operating in the United States as well as Germany. His views, however, are not to be considered as in any way representing the opinion of Ambassador von Bernstorff, with whom he is in intimate communication.

Tumulty, will attend the convention.

BULGARS OCCUPY GREEK GARRISON IN HEAVY ATTACK

Premier Renews Demand That Greece Enter War, Using Invasion as Cause

Only 25,000 Bulgarians Took Part in Invasion of Greek Territory, According to Latest Reports.

London, May 29.—(By United Press)—Brink fighting between Greece and Bulgaria occurred at several points along the frontier following the invasion of Greek territory by the Bulgarian detachment from the Greek garrison at Fort Rupel. The Greeks fired on the Bulgars before evacuating the position.

The Greeks were injured, according to Salonika dispatches today, because the Bulgars entered the fort before the time they had stipulated for their withdrawal. The Bulgars refused to fire, the Greeks withdrawing without serious casualties on either side.

Only 25,000 Bulgarians took part in the advance into Greek territory, according to the best available information. It is generally believed here that the Bulgars occupied Fort Rupel, Dragontina and Spatove, and a defensive measure to guard against allied attacks.

Premier Venizelos is using the Bulgarian advance to the best advantage in renewing the demand that Greece enter the war on the side of the allies. It is believed here however, that King Constantine is not willing to plunge his country into war.

Greece Promised Part of Serbia

Amsterdam, May 29.—Greece has been promised a slice of southern Serbia and Albania by the Austro-Germans in return for remaining neutral according to Berlin reports. For this reason the Greek government is expected to make no serious protest against the Bulgarian invasion.

French Attacks Reported

Berlin, May 29.—Two French attacks at Cumieres last night were completely repulsed, the war office announced this afternoon. Violent artillery fighting continued on both banks of the Meuse.

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 29, 1916.

Old Sol is getting even with the North Wind for remaining so long. He jumped the thermometer up to the 100 mark today and called Old Man Humidity in to help him.

Will someone kindly suggest a method by which a bartender may distinguish between a visiting bum and one of genuine home stock?

Interest in the fair is increasing mightily. The various committees charged with the preliminary work are making splendid headway, and everything points to a great success for the enterprise.

The governor is reported to be on the verge of a house-cleaning, which will throw out a great deal of the dead weight carried in the various state departments. As a precaution we would suggest that he securely anchor the state house before removing all of the ballast the commonwealth is carrying in its departments and bureaus.

Some months ago the president of council appointed a committee to negotiate with the county commissioners for the lease of a plot of ground for the erection of a garbage disposal plant. To date the committee has not said a word to the commissioners about it, and we continue to revel in the smells of the borough dump.

FLIES AND THE HEALTH BOARD

The Progress understands from a member of the board of health that the repeated demands of the board for the abatement of the fly nuisance in livery stables in the business section of the town have not been complied with. The board has repeatedly called the attention of the owners of these premises to the law which requires that manure and stable refuse be stored in receptacles which are designed to prevent the breeding of flies.

This condition has existed for upwards of a year. Promises after promise to comply with the law has been made. Nothing has been done.

A member of the board explained today that the board tried to accomplish its work without taking recourse to law to compel compliance with its orders. That is all very well if there is a disposition shown to cooperate with the board, but we deem it almost as great a dereliction on the part of the board to continue such toleration of it as on the part of the offending owners.

The conditions complained of constitute a nuisance from which the whole town suffers. They should be corrected with all possible speed, without invoking the aid of the court if possible, but with it if necessary.

TOBACCO MEN MEET IN NATIONAL CONVENTION

Washington, May 29—(By United Press)—A billion and a half dollars of capital was represented here today when the greatest convention of tobacco merchants in the history of the country began at the New Willard. There are 500 delegates from every section of the country, and representing every branch of the industry. From growers to leaf dealers, to manufacturer, jobber and the man behind the counters.

It is the first national convention of tobacco merchants. Cigars that a king couldn't afford to buy in any quantity will be smoked at tonight's banquet.

When a man tries to stop smoking via the drop-it-in-his-coffee-cup route, he takes a chance on contracting the cocaine or other drug habits, the conclave was told. It plans a fight on the 42 varieties of compounds which claim to destroy the desire for tobacco.

HOT WATER THE BEST LIVER AND BOWEL MEDICINE

Says Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast Washes Poisons from System

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach, others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

TELEGRAPHERS HAVE GRACE

New York, May 29—The national convention of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America was opened here today with welcome addresses and responses and the appointment of committees and other routine business. The convention promises to be of more than ordinary interest and importance to the membership. In addition to the transaction of a large amount of business relating to the affairs of the organization the convention will take up several matters outside the ordinary routine. Chief of these is an alleged hostile attitude said to have been adopted by the large telegraph companies in reference to the union and its membership. An exhaustive investigation is expected to be ordered into the alleged discrimination against union members in recent discharge made by the local management of the company in Boston and other cities.

Kansas City, Mo., May 29—A grand parade and demonstration with a visit from Theodore Roosevelt as an added attraction are to feature the Memorial Day celebration in Kansas City tomorrow. It is planned to start the parade at the Union Station at 8:45 o'clock in the morning, the hour scheduled for the arrival of Col. Roosevelt's train. A thousand Boy Scouts are to receive as the Roosevelt escort.

Arrangements are being made to unveil the memorial tomorrow with an interesting program of ceremonies. Governor Ralston has been invited to deliver the dedication address.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a tea with sulphur added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair to its natural color and luxuriant. But a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mix the Sage tea and Sulphur recipe at home though a true blonde. An equal way is to take a little of Welch's Sage and Sulphur compound at any drug store all ready mixed. This is the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While your hair fades, it is not until we lose it that we realize its youthful appearance and attractiveness. Stop darkening your hair with Welch's Sage and Sulphur Compound and you can tell because it is naturally healthy. You can turn on a dime or set brush with it and draw it through your hair. It is one of the best hair treatments in the world. It has been used for years by the most famous hairdressers.

The preparation is a true tonic for the hair and the scalp. It is not a cosmetic but a treatment.

When I Took Over the Ledger

a little more than three years ago I found it antiquated in equipment—18-year-old presses—good, but out of date; typesetting machinery and everything else, old, worn and cheap—to get out a cheap newspaper.

The best men in journalistic lines declined to work for it, because they couldn't afford to work for what it could afford to pay.

I have been spending money for three years to make the Public Ledger superior to any newspaper ever published in Philadelphia, or anywhere else. I have spent money not only for new, efficient and up-to-date machinery, but also for brains—for the best men who know how to make the best newspaper.

With what result?

The Ledger, when I took it over, had an actual net sale of about 45,000 copies daily, at one cent a copy. I raised the price to two cents for a better paper, and we have gradually grown up to 60,000 copies daily, at two cents a copy.

Newspaper men said to me: "Curtis, you can't do it. With all other Philadelphia morning papers at one cent a copy, you never can 'put over' a two-cent proposition, no matter how good you make your paper. Pennsylvania people are satisfied with what they have.

But I have put it over!

The Public Ledger has a much larger circulation at two cents a copy than the old Ledger had at one cent, and with the Evening Edition I am putting out 180,000 copies a day—and trying to find room in the old Ledger building to put in more presses to take care of a growing circulation!

To every business man of Pennsylvania the Public Ledger has a special appeal in its Financial and Business Section. Our own industries particularly are reported in detail.

Try the Public Ledger for six months. Read it long enough to get that "fixed habit" for the Ledger. Don't stay satisfied until you know there is "something better". Try the Ledger to find out—then accept it or discard it. Only a trial can settle the matter for you—that's all I ask.

GROWERS TO ORGANIZE ON A CALIFORNIA BASIS

Lockport, N. Y., May 29.—(By United Press)—To do for New York and the east what organization has done for Southern California orange growers and Oregon apple men, and to lay the foundation for the standardization, grading, packing and marketing of Western New York's famous apples and peaches, the Farmers' congress will be held in Lockport June 1, 2 and 3.

Several thousand farmers are expected. Parades will be featured. The 74th regiment of Buffalo will stage a sham battle. But the main purpose of the congress is to organize the farmers and guard against another year such as last, when millions of baskets of peaches were left unpicked because the growers did not know how to dispose of them.

Governor Charles S. Whitman will be a speaker at the Congress. Former United States Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, also will be here. Whitman and Burton will speak June 2nd. The country's leading authorities on the subject of fruit and marketing co-operation will attend, including Grosvenor Dawe, organizer of the Southern Commercial Congress, State Commissioner of Agriculture Charles S. Wilson, W. H. Jordan, P. S. Welsh, of the New York Central, J. S. T. Bush, president of the Eastern Produce and Fruit Exchange and Marc W. Cole. It is hoped to organize the farmers of Niagara county into small co-operative units.

DAUGHTERS TO DECORATE

Sandusky, O., May 29.—For the first time in more than a quarter of a century the graves of the 600 officers and 3,000 soldiers of the Confederacy, in the Federal prison cemetery on Johnson's Island, in Sandusky harbor, will not be decorated tomorrow by the veterans of the local G. A. R. post. On account of age and infirmities the handful of surviving Grand Army veterans were obliged reluctantly to discontinue their time-honored custom and to save their strength for the task of decorating the graves of their own dead. The graves of the "boys in gray," however, are not to be neglected on Memorial day. Learning of the decision of the G. A. R. post, the national chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy volunteered to take up the task and received permission to send many large boxes of flowers and flowers for the decorations of the Confederate graves.

SECOND TRIAL ON MURDER
CHARGE

Abingdon, Va., May 29.—In the Washington county circuit court here today James Canter was arraigned to stand trial for the second time on a charge of complicity in the murder of Mrs. Maude Wilson, for which one of Canter's brothers was electrocuted last June, while a second brother is still awaiting trial.

The murder of Mrs. Wilson was one of the most heinous ever committed in this section. The victim of the tragedy, a bride of a few weeks, was assaulted in her home in broad daylight, held a prisoner for hours, and finally she was brutally murdered. James Canter, who had formerly worked for the Wilson family, was suspected and was arrested. It was testified that he had on more than one occasion stated that he loved the woman.

With excitement high and a life hanging in the balance, Luther Canter, an older brother of James, and who was not even suspected of connection with the crime, assumed all responsibility, exonerated his brother of any connection with the crime, and expressed himself as ready and willing to pay the penalty. The younger brother was still held, however, because he had made conflicting statements, and was convicted as an accomplice.

Although Luther Canter was convicted largely upon his own confession and sentenced to die, the jury did not accept his exoneration of his brother and returned a verdict against James Canter of murder in the first degree.

Luther Canter was electrocuted last June, but James Canter took an appeal, and after several repites by the governor, his sentence was reversed by the supreme court of appeals, on the ground that the evidence was insufficient to sustain a verdict of murder in the first degree. In his new trial James Canter is to be defended by several eminent lawyers of Bristol, despite the fact that he is without friends or money. The lawyers, believing in his innocence, volunteered to assist in his defense.

Recently a new turn was given to the case by the arrest of William Canter, a third brother, on a charge of having been a member in the murder of Mrs. Wilson. He is being held in the jail at Bristol and will be tried later.

BURCHFIELD-MATSON

On Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at the parsonage of the Lutheran church, Bowman B. Burchfield and Miss Eva V. Matson, both of Coatesville, Pa., were united in marriage by Rev. C. R. Allenbach, the pastor of the Lutheran church. Mr. and Mrs. Burchfield were unattended, but were united in marriage according to the ring ceremony of the church. After a few days visit among friends, Mr. and Mrs. Burchfield will leave for Coatesville, where they will make their future home.

Saves her from a marauding party of his own countrymen. In the end the material disasters which have overtaken them both, reduce them to a level of poverty, and the distinctions of class, which prevented their union, are thus obliterated.

The drama is of intense romantic spirit, and most thrilling, at the Opera House, Tuesday evening.

MIGNOT,

Your Car's Life Fluid

Impoverished blood soon puts a man out-of-the-running. Impoverished gasoline will do the same thing to a motor. Good gasoline has got to be more than something that flows through a brass screen, smells and costs money. Now, perhaps more than ever before, motorists must beware of mongrel fuels. Despite market conditions, the uniform boiling-point that made Atlantic Gasoline famous is steadfastly maintained. We couldn't afford to alter that, even if we would. Buy Atlantic by name.

FIFTY CLOWNS.

Among the Buffoons With Carl Hagnbeck-Wallace Circus is Arthur Borella

Half a hundred clowns from mirthland's fertile field have been assembled this season by the management of the Carl Hagnbeck-Wallace Circus, which comes to Clearfield on Wednesday, June 7, for performances at 8 and 8 p. m., and a three-mile-long street parade at 10 o'clock in the morning.

One of the most interesting of these clowns is Arthur Borella, known the world over as the "Here's me" clown. This is Borella's trade-mark, and for twenty years it has been his slogan and by-word. Whenever he appears on the hippodrome track he shouts these words. Little tots know him, for he has inveigled cheer and happiness into the hearts of millions of them.

Beneath Borella's make-up of vermilion and white there is a sober face that on a down-town street corner one would pick for a banker or business man. He dresses neatly, and there is an air of polish and bearing in his manners which stands in vivid contrast to the foolishly funny fellow who cavorts about in the big arena tent, working the flap-sticks and making fire crackers do their full duty.

Mr. Borella is the originator of many clown novelties. He is the first person to successfully introduce baseball pantomime, and it was he who conceived the idea of having a goosie follow him about the track on a supposed trip to the frontier as a soldier. This season Borella has a burlesque which he calls "Chicken" and it promises to break all records as a laugh-dispenser and a grouch-chaser.

Arthur Borella is the highest paid clown in the world. His salary is $600 per week and all expenses. Only once in all the history of circus was this eclipsed and this was by the immortal Dan Rice, who once received a salary of $1,000 per week.

"THE CAPTIVE"

"The Captive," the second photodrama in which Blanche Sweet has starred under the direction of the Lusky Feature Play Co., is based on the play of the same name by Cecil B. De Mille and Jeanie MacPherson. It deals with events during the days of the Balkan Wars, and is primarily concerned with the romance of a Montenegrin peasant girl and a Turkish nobleman.

Sonya Martinovitch (played by Miss Sweet), her older brother, and her little crippled brother dwell on a small farm in Montenegro. In the first battle of the war with Turkey the older brother is slain, and Sonya is left helpless. In order to relieve the situation, one of the Turks, captured in the same combat, is assigned to Sonya as a captive who must take the place of the dead brother on the farm. At first Sonya hates the captive, both for his race and rank, and seeks to humiliate him in every manner possible, but he is so truly patient and noble that she begins to feel affection for him. The Turk (played by House Peters) finally shows his misery when Sonya lashes him with a whip.

The main events of the story concern the manner in which Sonya and the Turk come to love one another, and the manner in which the Turk
